(C) RATIONALE

The amalgamation of the Transferor Company with the Transferee Company will result in the following benefits:

- a) Both the Transferor Company and the Transferee Company operate in substantially similar lines of business, being primarily engaged in the production, manufacture and sale of steel and allied or iron and steel products in India and other markets, and both maintain steel producing facilities in the State of Karnataka. The amalgamation is expected to strengthen both, the Transferor Company and the Transferee Company’s long products portfolio, augmenting its capacity in segments such as TMT bars and billets that are presently supplied or transacted between the Parties, and thereby improving the depth and competitiveness of its overall product offering.
- b) Post effectiveness of the Scheme, the current procurement and offtake arrangements between Transferor Company and Transferee Company will be internalized within a single legal entity, leading to better optimization of raw material flows, inventory levels and production planning, resulting in improved operating efficiencies and margin.

<sup>1</sup> BMM has made an application for shifting its registered office to Mumbai, Maharashtra and approval of statutory authority is awaited. Upon completion of the process, the address of Mumbai office will be replaced with the existing address and the Scheme shall be modified to that extent without any approval from the Board of the Parties.

- c) The Transferor Company's steel facility in Karnataka is located within close proximity of Transferee Company's Vijayanagar plant, providing a natural logistical and operational integration opportunity to both the Parties.
- d) The merger will enable the sharing and rationalization of common resources such as operations and maintenance, logistics, utilities, marketing and sales, finance, human resources, information technology and other support functions.
- e) The Transferor Company has environmental clearances in place for 2.10 MTPA and also has availability of expansion ready land. The merger will provide the Transferee Company with an opportunity to increase its installed capacity base in a significantly faster and more economical manner than would be possible through a greenfield expansion.

The Scheme is, therefore, in the best interests of the Parties and fair and reasonable for the shareholders, employees, creditors and other stakeholders of each of the Parties.

10. ACCOUNTING TREATMENT

Notwithstanding anything else contained in the Scheme, the Transferee Company shall account for the amalgamation of the Transferor Company in its standalone financial statements as per the 'Acquisition Method' of accounting as laid down in the Indian Accounting Standard ("Ind AS") Ind AS - 103 Business Combinations, notified under Section 133 of the Act read with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, as amended from time to time, such that:

- 10.1 The Transferee Company shall record the identifiable assets acquired (including intangible assets, whether recorded in the books of accounts of the Transferor Company or not), and the liabilities assumed of the Transferor Company vested in it pursuant to this Scheme in accordance with the requirement of Ind AS 103. For this purpose, the liabilities assumed include contingent liabilities representing present obligation, and they are measured at their acquisition-date fair values irrespective of the fact that the outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is not probable. The difference between the assets and liabilities as recognized by the Transferee Company as per this clause is referred as "Net Assets".
- 10.2 Pursuant to the amalgamation of the Transferor Company with the Transferee Company, the inter-company balances, if any, between the Transferee Company and the Transferor Company, as appearing in the books of the Transferee Company shall stand cancelled and there shall be no further rights or obligations in that behalf. For the purpose of such cancellation, measurement of inter-company balances, if any, and treatment of any resultant difference will be as per the requirements of Ind AS.

- 10.3 The fair value of consideration transferred by the Transferee Company, as prescribed in clause 9.1 of this Scheme, shall be determined on the date of acquisition determined as per Ind AS 103. Accordingly, the Transferee Company shall credit its share capital account with the aggregate face value of the Transferee Company New Equity Shares issued to the shareholders of the Transferor Company pursuant to Clause 9.1. The excess of the fair value of Transferee Company New Equity Shares over its face value shall be credited to the Securities Premium Account.
- 10.4 Any excess of the aggregate of the consideration transferred as per clause 10.3 above over the value of Net Assets acquired as per clause 10.1 above and after giving effect to clause 10.2 above shall be treated as goodwill in accordance with Ind AS 103 on Business Combinations in the books of the Transferee Company. If the amount of consideration transferred as per clause 10.3 above is less than amount of Net Assets of the Transferor Company as per clause 10.1 above and after giving effect to clause 10.2 above, the Transferee Company re-assesses whether it has correctly identified all of the assets acquired and all of the liabilities assumed and reviews the procedures used to measure the amounts to be recognised as per clause 10.1 above at the acquisition date. If the reassessment still results in an excess of the fair value of net assets acquired over the aggregate consideration transferred, then the gain is recognised in OCI and accumulated in equity as capital reserve. However, if there is no clear evidence of bargain purchase, the Transferee Company recognises the gain directly in other equity as capital reserve, without routing the same through OCI.
- 10.5 The acquirer shall account for acquisition-related costs as expenses in the periods in which the costs are incurred and the services are received. However, the costs to issue equity securities shall be recognised in accordance with Ind AS 32 and Ind AS 109.
- 10.6 For accounting purposes, the Scheme will be given effect on the date when all substantial conditions of the amalgamation of the Transferor Company with Transferee Company are completed.
- 10.7 Any matter not dealt with in clause hereinabove shall be dealt with in accordance with the requirements of applicable Indian Accounting Standards.
